

Student Rights

What rights do undocumented students have?

Undocumented students have the right to attend public K-12 schools in California. They also have the right to attend public colleges and universities in California. However, they are not eligible for state financial aid and federal financial aid. They are also not eligible for in-state tuition rates at public colleges and universities. Undocumented students who are currently in California and have been in the state for at least three years are eligible for the California State Fee Waiver Program, which allows them to pay no tuition at public colleges and universities.
